PATAGONIA MISSION STATEMENT

CORPORATE SALES PARTNERS THAT INSPIRE

In their book, The Responsible Company,

Patagonia's Yvon Chouinard and Vincent Stanley offer advice to businesses that is simple but powerful: reduce your environmental footprint (and its skyrocketing cost), make legitimate products that last, reclaim deep knowledge of your business and its supply chain to make the most of opportunities in the years to come, and earn the trust (and business) you'll need by treating your workers, customers and communities with respect. In this catalog, which celebrates our 40th anniversary with historic photos, we recognize two corporate partners who work toward these ends. We hope to feature more in catalogs to come.

NEW BELGIUM BREWING®

With headquarters in Fort Collins, Colorado, New Belgium Brewing is a privately owned/employee-owned craft beer maker with a great corporate culture and sustainable business story. Environmental stewardship has been a New Belgium core value since it formally began selling beer in 1991, and through its Sustainability Management System, it determines its environmental impacts and sets definite targets for improvement. New Belgium's efforts to be a responsible company go beyond minimizing its environmental impacts to encouraging the growth of its employee owners and being a socially responsible contributor to its community. Among its many accomplishments, it's powered by wind and solar, diverts 99.9% of its waste from the landfill, donates 1% of its sales to environmental groups and was voted Best Place to Work by "Outside" magazine.

HONEST TEA®

Honest Tea's commitment to social responsibility is refreshingly central to the company's identity and purpose. Based in Bethesda, Maryland, and owned by Coca Cola since 2011, it strives for authenticity, integrity and purity, both in its products and the way it does business. Honest Tea introduced the world's first certified organic bottled tea in 1999, and today all of its teas and juice-based thirst-quencher drinks are also certified organic. In 2003, it brought to market its first Fair Trade Certified® bottled tea and has since converted all 19 of its tea offerings to Fair Trade Certified®, which means the farmers and workers who contribute to their production are justly compensated. Over the years, Honest Tea has contributed $350,000 in fair trade premiums to communities that have used the money for improving roads and electrification, solar water heaters, school buses and vaccines. It's also looked to lighten the impacts of its business by reducing packaging, creating an award-winning recycling initiative and shifting production closer to its sales centers.

ADZE JACKET

The Adze Jacket does everything a soft shell should: It breathes, blocks wind and keeps quiet. Key is the Polartec® Windbloc® stretch-woven polyester shell, which deflects wind while breathing freely and moving with a soft, supple hand – add to this a Deluge® DWR (durable water repellent) finish to fend off wet weather. The microgrid fleece interior traps heat, moves sweat and feels great next to skin, allowing total versatility with short- or long-sleeved layers. Features include two reverse-coil zippered handwarmer pockets and one internal zippered chest pocket, hook-and-loop cuff closures and a drawcord hem to seal out the elements and lock in heat. Regular fit. (Logo left chest.) Made in Nicaragua.

NANO PUFF® JACKET & VEST

Windproof, warm, lightweight and super compressible, our Nano Puff® Jacket and Vest can be worn as either outer or midlayers. Their 100% recycled polyester shell is insulated with low-bulk, hydrophobic, highly compressible PrimaLoft® ONE (60-g) insulation that traps heat with remarkable efficiency, even when wet. This season we've improved their fit with more shaping through the torso and waist, and added a soft, wicking interior storm flap and zipper garage for chin comfort when zipped up. We also resized these products' classic "brick" quilt pattern, added horizontal quilt lines on the side panels, and used a burly thread for enhanced durability. They both stuff away into an internal zippered chest pocket that has a carabiner clip-in loop, have zippered handwarmer pockets, elasticized cuffs (jacket only) and a dual-adjust drawcord hem to seal out wind and seal in warmth. Regular fit. (Logo left chest.) Made in Vietnam.

common threads partnership

We take back all Patagonia® products for recycling. But our Common Threads Partnership offers ways to wrest the full life out of the things we make before that final step. It's a partnership with our customers guided by four Rs – reduce, repair, reuse, then recycle. And to those we add a fifth R, asking you to reimagine a world where we take only what nature can replace.

R1® FULL-ZIP JACKET & PULLOVER

Our R1 tops are a favorite among Patagonia ambassadors and employees. They stretch, breathe, wick and warm with ultimate efficiency. Their finely tuned high/low interior grid polyester fabric (Polartec® Power Dry®) squashes down to practically nothing, has a terrific feel, and is durable and warm. A lighter weight, micro-grid fabric on the inner collar and underarm gusset improves breathability and dry times where you need it most. Both of these super versatile pieces excel as midlayers in winter or lightweight outerlayers in fall and spring. They come equipped with our new Variable Conditions Cuffs, which have discreet on-seam thumb loops and a spiral stitch construction that lets you push up your sleeves without constricting your forearms. A kissing-welt zipper garage at the chin gives next-to-skin comfort. Minimalist zippers reduce bulk, and offset shoulder seams steer clear of pack straps. Slim fit. (Logo left chest.) SLOPESTYLE HOODY

Core to the daily skiing and riding existence, our Slopestyle Hoody is the essential go-anywhere piece – from shredding midmorning corn to cruising around town with your crew. It has a soft, stretchy 100% polyester face with a DWR (durable water repellent) finish for weather and wind resistance. Inside, a plush microfleece lining takes care of moisture and glides smoothly over bare skin. A supple hood with a brushed interior adds warmth when you're returning from last call. Cuffs have thumb loops to ensure wrist coverage, and two handwarmers heat up cold digits (each pocket has a hidden zip pocket inside). A drawcord hem keeps your heat where it belongs.
